JOHN BOARDMAN usually swamps the FOCAL POINT mailbox with newspaper clippings on many stange and interesting subjects. This time however, Frank Wilimezyk sent us a clipping from the June 22 issue of the New York Post which mentions John Boardman. Leonard Schechter's column is conducting a no prize pun contest, and John sent in the one from Through Space And Time With Ferdinand Feghoot about "A group of Southpaw female apes, are described as left-handed monkey wenches." The same day this column appeared it was announced on the radio that the Post is folding. Could there be a connection?
