Re: ET100 Announcement

Gentner Communications Corporation has sold out all inventory of the ET100 portable teleconferencing system and has discontinued the product. However, limited quantities of B-stock units are still available and Gentner will continue to support it.

If you have customers that are interested in this product, please contact the teleconferencing sales team and we can discuss appropriate substitutions. The GT300 may be a good alternative.

As always, thank you for your efforts to support Gentner Communications Corporation.
