

Sony has the perfect CCD camera to capture images in both the day and night – the new SSC-DC593 wide dynamic/day-night video camera. Specifically designed for challenging day/night surveillance applications, the SSC-DC593 high-resolution DSP color camera incorporates a 1/3 type IT CCD with DynaView™ technology. This technology provides wide dynamic range for viewing high contrast images, as well as a Day/Night function that enables users to obtain color images by day and black and white images by night. When severe lighting is an issue, the SSC-DC593 is the camera that gets the job done!
